The SRH Perspective: Learn Tomorrow's Skills Today

Our Philosophy

With our unique study concept – the CORE Principle – we support you personally in achieving your goals. We have aligned all objectives, exams, teaching and learning methods to make studying with us a fun, successful and hands-on experience. Our graduates are well prepared for any challenge: by combining the acquisition of skills and the joy of learning in an individual and innovative teaching method, we prepare our students to become agile and self-confident professionals, in great demand on the job market.

Why SRH? What Sets us Apart, at a Glance

Setting up New Standards in Education

Our quality certifications speak for themselves:

- Regular top results in the Che Ranking 2020, i.e. regarding the international orientation (10/12) and our high graduation rate (98.5% in the appropriate time) of our Master's programmes
- System accreditation: quality seal of the Accreditation Council certifying that the university meets the highest quality standards in teaching and learning and has self-accreditation authority for its programmes
- Re-accreditation of 10 years by the German Council of Science and Humanities (Wissenschaftsrat)
- Awarded the Genius Loci Award for Excellence in Teaching in 2018 by the Stifterverband für Deutsche Wissenschaft and the VolkswagenStiftung for our CORE Principle
- FIBAA Premium Seal for our Master's programme International Management; the programme ranks in the TOP 10 of all Master's programmes in Germany. All our Bachelor's and Master's programmes are FIBAA accredited.

Hand in Hand with the Industry

We believe in an education that is directly related to the work you will do after you graduate. Study and research with us on real-life projects with practical partners from the fields of business, culture, politics and society. Work collaboratively with students from different disciplines. Gain access to our network of over 1,500 companies through internships and through the early integration of real work projects into your curriculum. Benefit from free German language courses and career support. Coached and inspired by the best, you will set out on your individual path to a successful career.

Your Gateway to an International Education

Our goal is a diverse international education for our students. The schools of the SRH Berlin offer a truly global perspective with an intercultural community that welcomes students from 100 nations. We maintain a close network with 113 partner universities, from East Asia to North America, and we are also proud to be part of the Erasmus+ programme which offers students the opportunity to study or intern up to one year abroad.

Learn » Outside the Box «

Thanks to the great variety of courses and our agile, skill-based concept of education, we have designed an additional offer of special programmes for our students.

- Customise your studies by adding any course that fits in your timetable
- Wild Studies: unique in Berlin, this extra-curricular semester allows you to put together your own timetable for a low, one-off fee
- SRH Campus Switch: Hop to any of the SRH Berlin campuses for a semester

Our CORE Principle

Prof. Dr. h. c. Jörg Winterberg
CEO of SRH Higher Education and founder of the CORE Principle

«Being a higher education provider in today's world means continuously striving to improve our teaching and learning methods whilst creating agile, state-of-the-art study spaces. It is of the essence that our students learn in a competence-oriented manner and are empowered to have a successful career.»

Our Study Concept: The CORE Principle

We created a unique approach to education, designed in-house to best fit our students' individual needs and strengths.

The introduction of our innovative teaching and learning model, the CORE principle (Competence Oriented Research and Education), represents our response to new educational and market challenges. CORE places the highest priority on the development of our students' competencies. In designing our degree programmes we start with the desired outcome and work backwards from there.

Our coordinated programmes facilitate the best possible employability in a global market.

We are committed to this approach in all our services – in classroom-based, distance-learning, part-time and certified programmes.

An agile, motivating and innovative culture of learning is both condition and result. We work closely with our industry partners and our students and by doing so create the best possible learning environment.

- 5-week blocks of teaching for maximum focus on the subject. Study programmes are organised in five-week blocks of applied study. Working in a small group, you get to focus intensively on real-world challenges.
- Diverse exam forms: No more crammed exam weeks. Ongoing performance evaluations at the end of each five-week block ensure a continuous feedback loop and relieve end-of-year exam stress. We use various examination methods to test different facets of skill and competence building.
- Your teacher is your coach, throughout your studies. While focusing on your work you receive active guidance from your mentors and profit from a range of options to help you achieve your personal goals.
- Interactive learning and teaching methods. Different study formats include a variety of group work, seminars, role-play and applied assignments. Simultaneously, CORE provides you with the space and equipment that best support you. A dynamic, agile environment that makes learning not only extremely efficient but fun too.
- Learn in the real world, for the real world: Practical projects, teamwork and company internships. Our excellent ties to companies across all relevant industries help you gain first-hand professional experience and play a crucial role in your job search after graduation.

We Empower you to Build your Future

Our Career Service supports you every step of the way, from career planning to job entry:

- workshops and career days
- application training and interview coaching
- check of application documents
- support with search for internships and post-graduate jobs
- field trips to partner companies
- access to a network of over 1,500 corporate partners
- exclusive career portal on JobTeaser.com

The SRH Career Service is here to help you get your career off the ground. Get in touch with us and profit from our knowledge, networks and contacts.

Our Career Service supports you every step of the way and helps you enter the job market successfully. We organise workshops and career days, and coach you for interviews. Also, we personally guide you through the entire process of your individual career planning and support you in your search for internships and any job placement issues.

Moreover, we have launched our Career Centre in partnership with JobTeaser to support you on your job hunt. On this platform you can find all the job opportunities, events and resources you might need to help you with your search.

The internship that turns into job prospects.

Most of our programmes, both at Bachelor and Master level, include one or two internships to allow you to gain valuable work experience, give you an additional edge on the job market, and ultimately transition into a job.

Finding the right internship can be somewhat of a challenge. But you are not fighting this battle alone. Our career experts are here to guide you, and your professors have an established network in their industry and will be happy to support you.

Free German courses for international students.

As a junior graduate, entering the German job market without a solid knowledge of the language may prove difficult. Our Language Center offers German courses free of charge to all international students interested in taking advantage of the full immersion experience and adding another language to their skill set.

As the 4th language in the world in terms of economic impact, German gives you access to the DACH* region, and will enhance your competitive edge both on the national and international job market.

*DACH: Germany, Austria & Switzerland

After graduation: 18-month job-search visa & settlement permit.

International students coming from outside the EU/EEA area benefit from a 1.5-year stay back option after graduation to look for a suitable job.

Once you secured a work contract of min. one year full time that adequately suits your qualifications and is paid market value, you may apply for a residence permit with full working rights.

Upon holding a residence permit for the purpose of employment as a "qualified professional" for at least 2 years (in accordance with Sections 18a, 18b or 18d German Residence Act) and having acquired a B1 level of German, you may apply for a settlement permit.*

*Other conditions apply, and exceptions may be made concerning the required years of employment in Germany or the level of German language, based on the qualifications and field of work.

SRH Campus Hamburg

Experience »Growth with Foresight« in Hamburg

Ahoy, Matey! Our youngest SRH Campus in Hamburg is a popular study location for national and international students. The second largest city of Germany is situated between the North Sea and the Baltic Sea, only an hour and a half train ride away from Berlin. The Alster river and lake as well as numerous shopping malls and stores in the city centre are only a stone's throw away. The city also provides a wide range of sports, leisure, shopping and cultural facilities.

Hamburg has been a trading town for centuries. Therefore, it should be no surprise that it is a great location for education and business alike. The nearby Port of Hamburg – 3rd busiest port in Europe – is an international logistics hub and Germany's »Gateway to the World«. Moreover, the city is home to many tech and media companies. As you can see, it is the perfect spot to choose a study programme in IT, logistics or business.

What do our students say?

Liebelei Lawrence
M.A. International Management

Why did you want to study at SRH Berlin?

«...because I was looking for an accredited degree programme that is taught in English, does not necessarily require a Bachelor's degree in economics and is more practice-oriented than theory-oriented.»

What did you enjoy most about your studies?

«My experience at SRH Berlin was very enriching due to the multicultural composition of the students. In addition, the support and backing from the SRH Berlin staff and the programme director was unparalleled.»

How did SRH prepare you for your degree?

«Studying at SRH Berlin gave me a balanced, well-rounded and practical education, which I believe prepared me perfectly for a smooth transition into the working world.»

GCI Global Cooperation Institute

Kirsten Matthes
SRH Berlin Head of Global Cooperation Institute

SRH GCI Global Cooperation Institute

»Here we coordinate our projects with cooperation partners from all over the world, work on the expansion of our international partner network and fill our internationalisation strategy with life.«

The SRH Global Cooperation Institute (GCI) is the hub of all international activities at SRH Berlin University of Applied Sciences. Embark on your international adventure with our team.

Out into the World

The International Office is your first point of contact concerning any questions about your stay abroad. We provide you with all important contacts and information on scholarships and study opportunities, be it exchange semesters, dual programmes or internships abroad. We also coordinate the ERASMUS consortium and the PROMOS scholarship programme.

Free German Courses

Whether you want to improve your foreign language skills, acquire a language certificate or better your diversity and intercultural skills: The Language & Diversity Centre is the pivotal point for language learning and diversity training. With our high-quality university-specific foreign language and individual diversity trainings your international success is guaranteed.

Our Partners Abroad

Over the years, we have built a strong network of international partner universities. We offer mobility grants to our students and staff alike. Furthermore, we are happy to welcome guest students and teaching staff from our partner institutions. Also, many faculty members are engaged in research projects with our partners and are constantly developing new ideas for future cooperations that will benefit us all.

Residence Permit Services

You have already received your admission letter from SRH Berlin and your student visa? Then it's time to plan your stay in Germany. Our Residence Permit Service is happy to answer your questions and make the necessary arrangements for our students as a group.

Germany is the perfect study location as it disposes of a high-quality tertiary education system. Therefore, German university degrees are highly respected by employers around the globe. Moreover, with us, you can study in English.

But don't just take our word for it: Germany was deemed the no. 1 destination for international students in Europe and the 3rd most attractive study destination worldwide according to the OECD and study.eu.

»I feel secure in knowing my future employer will need me just as much as I will need them.«

Future Job Prospects

Germany is the European leader in growth, employment and export. Therefore, there are innumerable career opportunities for skilled professionals. Especially graduates with degrees in STEM (science, technology, engineering, mathematics), supply and waste management, IT and software development/programming are in high demand.

»While studying in Germany I get to focus on my studies and not worry about my finances.«

Affordable Living Costs

Compared to other European countries, living costs in Germany are quite moderate. Students benefit from a lot of concessions. In addition, international students with a valid residence permit are allowed to work part time while pursuing their studies, 20h per week up to 240 days per year (or 120 days full time). And after your studies, you benefit from an 18-month residence permit to find a suitable job.

» Getting to live in a vibrant city while at the same time feeling safe at home is the best of both worlds.«

Health & Safety

Germany is considered a very safe country. Ranked 16th among 163 countries, it is one of the most peaceful in the world, according to the Global Peace Index 2020. Whether living in a big city or in a small town, students can pretty much move around day or night without having to take any special precautions.

»In Germany you feel like you are at home even though it is not your home country.«

German Culture

Germany, home to renowned poets and philosophers such as Goethe, Schiller and Kant, has a lot to offer: a diverse art scene, music and folk festivals and a big literary scene. Cities like Berlin, Hamburg and Dresden offer a wide range of recreational activities, such as street food or film festivals, concerts and thousands of parties to go to.

»Germany lies in the heart of Europe which makes it a perfect starting point to travel the continent.«

Explore Germany & Europe

Germany as a travel and study destination has a lot to offer. Whether you are an adventure seeker or a culture vulture - Germany fulfills every need: Skiing in the Alps, mountaineering in the Black Forest or visiting historical and cultural sites. Germany lies in the heart of Europe which makes it a perfect starting point to travel the continent. Paris, Madrid or Rome – all of these amazing destinations are just a stone's throw away.

The Start-Up Lab

Put your ideas
into action.

The SRH Start-Up Lab Berlin is an open, cross-school meeting space where our students find a supportive and interdisciplinary environment to develop their entrepreneurial personality. Creative people who want to set up their own businesses are able to test their innovative ideas and get the opportunity to network. In addition to lectures, workshops, meet-ups and other events, we offer consulting services for all phases of the start-up process.
